(July 1) Yesterday, a delegation from the Securities Association of China delegation visited Guangzhou and launched Gunagfa Securities' first overseas training program in 2007 that is to be held in Canada.

According to our source, the Securities Association of China, Guangfa Securities and the Canadian Securities Institute jointly organized the training program. The first group of 28 people will stay in Canada for 2 months for this training program. The training program will focus on subjects of North American capital markets, securities firm operations and management, and their comparison with Chinese counterparts. By developing its core executives and professionals with comprehensive and modern knowledge in the world investment markets, Guangfa Securities expects to advance its competitiveness in the Chinese market that has been widely open to international competitors since 2006 due to China's WTO concession of opening financial services industry.

At the meeting, the leader from the Securities Association of China indicated that it is the first time in the history of Chinese securities industry that such a large group of professionals from a single firm will be trained abroad for such a significantly long period. He anticipates that the group will learn from and be inspired by overseas investment banks, and become a driving force for the fast growing Chinese securities market. This type of international training cooperation allows the Chinese securities industry to accumulate valuable experience to be used directly in their day-to-day job activities.

Dr. Li Jiangyong, Gaungfa Securities's acting president, thanked the Securities Association of China for their direction and leadership in the design and development of the training program. He further stressed that the program design is primarily focused on the best practices of the global modern securities industry. He looks forward to using this selected group of Gaungfa elites as his company's most valued human capital to compete in the future. He urged the group to learn more knowledge, gain deeper insights, and to become more capable.
